

Meghan Wilbar

As a Colorado native Meghan Wilbar has taken her art practice across the country. She received her BA from Knox College in Illinois in Studio art and minored in French. While at Knox, she studied abroad at L'Ecole Des Beaux Arts in Besancon France as well as a semester in Chicago.

After the completion of her degree, she continued on to New York where she obtained her MFA from the New York Studio School. She also spent a summer upstate at the Chautauqua Institute Intensive Studio Program. Her work is exhibited at the John Deaux Gallery in Colorado. She currently lives and works in NYC.